2. Through the process of performing, the young children can enhance their self-confidence, and gain sense of satisfaction from the audience's praise.

Activity Introduction and Record:

The young children wear traditional Chinese cultural costumes to participate in the "Children's Song Recitation Performance Day", to match the content of reciting Tang dynasty poetry. For example, some children hold props of animals – geese, to recite the Tang poem "Yǒng é", while others dress up as Li Bai to recite the poem "Thoughts on a Quiet Night". This deepens their interest and engagement in reciting Tang poetry, allowing the children in classes Nursery and K1 to appreciate the elegant diction and the beauty of Chinese culture from a young age through the introduction of Tang poetry.
